WinMount is a software application that allows users to mount image drives quickly and easily. The user interface is clean and intuitive, and can be mastered even by less experienced users. At the end of the installation process, you can select the file associations. With WinMount, a blank new disc can be mounted by specifying its size, volume format, and selecting the WMT saving option. The application allows users to configure compression settings by selecting the archive format, compression level, CPU threads, and total volumes for splitting. It is also possible to make WinMount overwrite the existing files, delete the original files after archiving, create an SFX archive, as well as shut down the computer at the end of the compression process. WinMount provides an encryption feature that can help you keep your archived documents private from unauthorized viewing by setting up passwords. Additionally, you can add comments and use a customized magic page, as well as select an SFX icon from a file. In conclusion, WinMount can give you a hand if you are looking for a tool that mounts image drives, as well as compress and decompress files quickly.HOUSTON – Two Houston police officers and a school official are among those receiving death threats after the deadly school shooting in Florida, officials said. Houston Police Chief Art Acevedo confirmed that school officer Michael Moon and school security officer Alan Ambrose have received death threats, while Frisco ISD Police Chief Frank Liptak said a school board member has also received threats. The school district said its Community Affairs office received at least five calls threatening violence and violence against students and employees. "This is all part of the community's response to the heinous, cowardly attack in Florida that has affected so many," Liptak wrote in a statement. "Let us all keep our children, students and employees safe. It is a big job and it is hard. We are all scared. We all look to protect our children and be able to control violence in our schools." None of the threats have been confirmed, Liptak said. Houston Police said an open investigation is ongoing and that anyone who receives threatening phone calls should not call police. Acevedo said the calls came as people try to figure out what happened in Florida and some may be "outraged by what happened in Florida." "What's wrong with these people? We are trying to figure out why somebody did this. I think that is the objective of all of us,"
